

Need a Stained Glass Studio?

The SGAA can help!

Let us help you save time, money and speed up your selection process. Fill out the form below and send to the SGAA Headquarters. It's that simple!

The Stained Glass Association of America will send your information to our Accredited Studios. Studios interested in and capable of performing the work for your project will contact you to begin the next step in the selection process.

The SGAA Headquarters is always available to help with the success of your project. A team of stained glass experts are available with advice and answers to your questions.
